It has been the object of your School Board to give the best work possible to the schools the past year. We have employed, as far as seemed best for the schools, Normal Graduates or teachers holding State certificates, feeling it was wise to engage those who have spent some time in the study and methods of teaching than a High school student who has given no special time to the methods of imparting knowledge to the young people of the present time. The average attendance has been very good considering the extra long school year. During the fall term of 1915, Tom Howe, the eight year old son of Allen Howe walked the long distance to the Bridge school with perfect attendance.

Our expenses have been more owing to the increase in the salary of the teachers, three are holding State certificates and two of the teachers with Normal school diplomas.

Our teachers rank with the best. Each school received thirty-two weeks of instruction which shows improvement in the pupils. I think it would have been better if the schools could have had a superintendent. We have made every effort to do our best.

Elmira C. Evans,
Winnie S. Willoughby,
Wilbur L. White.
